

THE GUILD OF TELEVISION CAMERA PROFESSIONALS PRESENTS

GTC TELEVISION ACADEMY

WEDNESDAY 8TH NOVEMBER, 10AM TO 5PM
SHARE LECTURE THEATRE, FUSION BUILDING

a unique opportunity to hear some of our industry's leading lights share their expertise in an inspiring day of presentations

SARAH EDWARDS
DIRECTOR OF PHOTOGRAPHY

From specialist factual and documentary to music videos, commercials and her recent first independent feature film, Sarah talks about her route through the camera department as well as the challenges and advantages of being a woman in a man's world.

MIKE THOMAS
SALES DIRECTOR, TOP TEKS

Mike explains the services Top Tek provide to the freelancer from purchases to after sales care and maintenance. He discusses the relationship between freelancer and supplier, plus a heads-up on new equipment releases.

MICHAEL WOOD
HEAD, PERFORMANCE INSURANCE

INSURANCE - IT'S IMPORTANT!
 Michael will discuss what insurances you should consider taking out either as a freelance camera operator, limited company or fledgling production company in the areas of Equipment, PLI, Professional Indemnity and Employer's Liability.

GRAHAM MAUNDER
FILM-MAKER, GTC CHAIRMAN

From working on the Olympics to Comic Relief, working with Ewan McGregor and Unicef, Graham will share stories from his work that has taken him around the Globe.

GRAHAM HATHERLEY
WILDLIFE CAMERAMAN

Graham speaks about the challenges of getting up close to some of the world's iconic creatures and will offer career tips for getting into the industry as well as some how-to for aspiring natural history film-makers.

DAN LEE
EDITORIAL ADVISER AND WRITER

PICS AND FILM IN PUBLIC: KEEP IT LEGAL
 From a two-decade career spanning legal advice, journalism and fiction for Channel 4, The Guardian, Evening Standard and others Dan talks about your rights filming in public areas and the powers of police and security staff.

The Guild of Television Camera Professionals is an independent craft organisation supporting and encouraging excellence in all aspects of television camerawork. GTC members are professional cameramen and camerawomen who operate in all areas of broadcasting. The International Association of Wildlife Film-makers (IAWF) is now affiliated to the GTC.